Trish Short, Founder of Artists for Life, once described herself as a prochoice feminist. She began her journey back to faith after her life fell apart as the result of two failed marriages and two abortions. A former model and actress turned producer and director A Trish has spent the last 10 years producing videos and music for pro-life ministries all around the world through her production company, Winner Productions. Trish was first commissioned by the Marians of the Immaculate Conception in 2002 to direct and produce the best-selling contemporary Chaplet melody entitled Chaplet of Divine Mercy in Song. It was filmed at the National Shrine and still airs today on EWTN. In 2005, she began working in cooperation with the Marians again on Generations Unite in Prayer.

We started watching this version of the Chaplet for Divine Mercy on EWTN each Sunday afternoon at 3:00 PM. We have the DVD and the CD. We listen to the CD in the car and it is a great way to spend time in traffic or on a trip around town.

Beautiful, but I must say that for years I watched the chaplet on TV, and it was so wonderful. These singers are different. The one I had watched on TV had five different singers. This one seems to "star" the man and he is indeed talented, but the focus is slightly off of God and more on the singers. There are 3 singers and they combine in the last two parts. Again, it is beautiful and I listen to it over and over. But if I had a choice, I would buy the original version. The CD starts with two songs that are not in the chaplet and then the chaplet which begins with a spoken Our Father and Hail Mary, and then the sung chaplet.

I have been devoted to Saint Faustina, her Diary, and the Divine Mercy Chaplet for years now. This presentation of the Divine Mercy Chaplet is performed by a diverse ecumenical group of people. There is beautiful singing, and the meditations are sung as well. There is a genuine reverence and spirituality in these recordings. I sometimes find myself "playing" the tunes in my head, along with recitation of the words of the Chaplet, during the workday. This CD is lovely, and definitely is a valuable addition to anyone's collection of spiritual/meditative recordings.

for anyone atuned to the Chaplet of Divine Mercy, this is just a gorgeous rendition. I, who cannot carry a tune in a bucket, find myself singing the response along with the CD. I bought a second one to gift to the person who first told me about this prayer. Wonderfully arranged.

I bought this CD because of the great reviews, since I was looking for something special to guide me in my prayer and meditation. From the start, I loved it. The two introductory songs were wonderful, and the three gifted singers brought the whole thing alive for me. I have since listened to other versions, but although all are nice, this one touches my heart in a special way. I am very grateful to be able to participate in this beautiful prayer.

This CD is not what I expected...at the very end of The Chaplet of Divine Mercy in song, the singers suddenly begin to improvise their beautiful melodic singing with gospel-like wails & vocal riffs --which actually scared elderly seniors who were praying along with the CD in their wheelchairs, in a nursing home chapel. I had to lower the CD at this point, because the seniors became disconcerted & began commenting "What was that!?" (about these unexpected wails & riffs on the CD.) This is NOT how the Divine Mercy is sung on EWTN-TV, why on this CD??

I feel so connected to my heavenly father; when I listen to this CD. My heart is lifted and I know he hears my prayer. I would tell all that they don't have to be Catholic to purchase this CD. You just have to believe.

This is the most beautiful cd of the divine mercy I have ever heard.
