Formed in 1995, the Council for the Central Laboratory of the Research Councils (CCLRC) owns and operates the Rutherford Appleton Laboratory in Oxfordshire, the Daresbury Laboratory in Cheshire and the Chilbolton Observatory in Hampshire. These world-class institutions support the research community by providing access to advanced facilities and an extensive scientific and technical expertise.

The 2005 Nautical Almanac rates 57 stars! Any sailor or student of celestial navigation knows this essential book -- just a little less than 1-inch thick -- contains the position of the sun, moon, 4 visible planets and 57 navigable stars for every second of 2005! How do they get it done? It's a masterful piece of mathematics and a "must have" for every person who wishes to practice celestial navigation. Numerous special tables provide vital information that could be needed in special situations (that are also well explained). Finally, there's a great peace of mind you'll enjoy with your

2005 Nautical Almanac, even if you also use an electronic version. When purchased, no batteries will be needed throughout the year...guranteed.-Bob
