Rand McNally's Street Finder Atlas for Colorado Springs and Pueblo is designed to ease the pain of navigation through these two rapidly-growing Colorado cities. Map coverage, in color, straddles Teller and El Paso counties around Colorado Springs, and the municipal area of Pueblo within Pueblo County. A foldout front page provides a key to the many map sheets to follow in this spiral bound atlas. Some of the map sheets for Colorado Springs are national forest lands, but the municipal and suburban areas, including several military bases, are covered in detail. There is a special map of downtown Colorado Springs, following the curve of Interstate 25 through the city center. A back page map provides an uncluttered look at central Colorado. The atlas includes a street index for Colorado Springs and Pueblo. It can be a challenge to find individual map sheets without constant reference to the guide. Colorado Springs has continued to expand since the publication of this atlas, but this is still a good guide and highly recommended as an aide for the visitor navigating the "Springs."
