This is a cute Paw Patrol story which almost exactly mimics an episode of the show called Pups and the Kitty-tastrophe. Rubble sees a kitty drifting out on the bay, and The Paw Patrol is called to action! After a few adventures and some serious kitty tracking, they save the kitty and return her to her owner. I really love these Little Golden Books and the length of the stories they usually have. This one is cute and engaging enough that my son enjoyed it when he was 2, but long and complex enough that my daughter, who is almost 6, still enjoys it. These books are also great for kiddos who like to read on their own but aren't quite ready for chapter books. They're a great transition after some of the easy readers. I only gave this 4 stars because some of the illustrations could use improvement. When you write a book about some beloved characters, I feel the illustrations need to be spot on. Some of the ones in this book resemble the pups, but don't look exactly like the pups in the show. This bothers my kids every time we read it. :)

My three-year-old twins LOVE Paw Patrol and books so I decided to buy them some new Paw Patrol books as part of their birthday presents! I typically try to buy board books if that edition is available since they are more durable but my kids are slowly growing out of the extremely destructive phase so I figure the Little Golden Books are a good option. I remember Little Golden Books from when I was a kid and seeing these brings back so many memories! They are just how I remember with the thick, cardboard covers, colorful paperback pages, and signature gold spine. At approximately 6 1/2 inches by 8 inches, they are the same size as other Little Golden Books so they will look great next to others of the same series. The Itty-Bitty Kitty Rescue is adapted from the TV episode entitled "Pups and the Kitty-tastrophe" which is on the Paw Patrol DVD. It tells the story of how the pups need to help save a kitten named Precious multiple times. My kids love the version on the DVD so I knew they would enjoy the book as well and they do! They are able to recognize scenes from the show so they understand what is going on. This story is like a typical Little Golden Book story, it's short enough to read within about five minutes but long enough to tell a nice story without it ending too quickly. I think children of any age will enjoy this book since mommy and daddy can read it to their kids and, as kids get older, they can start to read it themselves. Whether or not your Paw Patrol fan has seen this episode, this book would make a great addition to your book collection and I'm pleased that my kids like it so much! These books are very reasonably priced and I will definitely be on the lookout for more of these Paw Patrol books. My family highly recommends it to yours!

My 4-year-old grandson is an avid Paw Patrol fan and this book is perfect for him to aid in his developing reading skills. I highly recommend this for anyone who wants their child to read a book that they will find exciting!!

This is very well written! Bought for my nephew who just turned one & loves paw patrol. It's written just like one of the tv episodes.

I have two kids obsessed with Paw Patrol. I purchased this book not realizing it is EXACTLY the same as the Kitty Rescue episode. I don't know why, but I thought it would vary a bit. My 4 year old keeps comparing the book to the episode. The story is typical of how the television show goes - the pups are called by Ryder to the Lookout and are assigned their tasks. This book focuses mainly on Skye, Zuma, Rubble and Marshall. I took off one star because the binding of the book is flimsy and it seems like it's not going to last long.

Great book for the paw patrol lover! Not just about Marshall, but has several of the dogs playing parts in this rescue

We do story time every night with our children. This book was a christmas gift for our 1.5 yr old. Its now the book he wants to read every night. Its cute and not too lengthy. Not that i love short books but we try to make them not too long so we can have a little variety each night.

My five-year-old son loves PAW Patrol, so Santa brought this for Christmas. He likes it. It's a nice little story with a few twists and turns, and it keeps him engaged. It's actually got a lot of pages for a small little book. And of course it has that Golden Book nostalgia. It's a winner in our house.
