The Moth Presents All These Wonders: True Stories About Facing The Unknown

Synopsis

â œWonderful."Â "Michiko Kakutani,Â New York TimesCelebrating the 20th anniversary of storytelling phenomenon The Moth, 45 unforgettable true stories about risk, courage, and facing the unknown, drawn from the best ever told on their stagesCarefully selected by the creative minds at The Moth, and adapted to the page to preserve the raw energy of live storytelling, All These Wonders features voices both familiar and new. Alongside Louis C.K., Tig Notaro, John Turturro, and Meg Wolitzer, readers will encounter: an astronomer gazing at the surface of Pluto for the first time, an Afghan refugee learning how much her father sacrificed to save their family, a hip-hop star coming to terms with being a â œone-hit wonder,â • a young female spy risking everything as part of Churchillâ ™s â œsecret armyâ • during World War II, and more. High-school student and neuroscientistÂ alike, the storytellers share their ventures into uncharted territoryâ "and how their lives were changed indelibly by what they discovered there. With passion, and humor, they encourage usÂ all to beÂ more open, vulnerable, and alive.

Customer Reviews

NATIONAL BESTSELLERâ œA wonderful new book....Â Some [stories] are heartbreakingly sad; some laugh-out-loud funny; some momentous and tragic; almost all of them resonant or surprising. They are stories that attest to the startling varieties and travails of human experience, and the shared threads of love, loss, fear and kindness that connect us.... The stories hereâ |have translated seamlessly to the page. Though they are all relatively shortâ |most possess a remarkable emotional depth and sincerity.... They are...closely focused, finely tuned narratives that have the force of an epiphany, while opening out to disclose the panoramic vistas of one personâ ™s life or the shockingly disparate worlds they have inhabited or traversed." â "Michiko Kakutani,Â New York Times"All These Wonders is replete with wondrous true stories of loves, losses, rerouted dreams, and existential crises of nearly every unsugarcoated flavor."â "Maria Popova, Brain Pickingsâ œ[The Moth] has this indescribable energy that comes with people allowing themselves to be honest without fear. Translated to the page, this bookâ |really become an incredible syllabus of vulnerability, one that invites you to cherry pick and re-read stories as you need them.â • â "Goop (16 Great Reads for the Summer)â œAll These Wonders is a compelling read, by turns uplifting, heartbreak, and ultimately redemptive. If there is a real hero of the book, it is surely the human spirit, which, time and again, transcends whatever life throws at it.â • â "Daily Mail â œAll These Wonders is divided into seven expertly curated chapters. The effect is an anthology of seven Mainstage shows, averaging six stories per show. Each juxtaposes sensational stories by famous names (Ishmael Beah, John Turturro, Tig Notaro, Louis C.K.) with those by relatively unknown storytellers, whose narratives, quite often, deliver the biggest emotional punches.â •â "Megan Labrise, Kirkus Reviewsâ œAll These Wonders is a journey through the mysteries of the unexpected.... Every tale is its own surprising glimpse into the human story.â • â "Mary Elizabeth Williams, Salon"The Moth's 20-year retrospective contains all the hope, sadness, triumphs, and tribulations that have defined the pioneering live reading series since its modest debut in 1997....Â Overall, the two decades of the Moth remain as entertaining and powerful off-stage as they were onstage."Â â "Kirkus Reviews"[The stories] are all arresting tales."â "Buffalo News (Editor's Choice) "[The Moth is] New York's hottest and hippest literary ticket."Â â "Wall Street Journal

THE MOTHÂ is an acclaimed not-for-profit organization dedicated to the art and craft of storytelling. Inspired by friends telling stories on a small-town Georgia porch, The Moth garnered a cult following in New York City, and then rose to international acclaim with the wildly popular podcast and Peabody Awardâ "winning weekly public radio show The Moth Radio Hour (produced by Jay Allison and presented by PRX.) The Moth is a celebration of both the raconteur, who breathes fire into true tales of ordinary life, and the storytelling novice, who has lived through something extraordinary and yearns to share it. At the center of each performance is the story, and The Moth's directors work with each storyteller to find, shape, and present it. Since its launch in 1997, The Moth has presented tens of thousands of stories, told live and without notes, to standing-room-only crowds worldwide. The Moth received a 2012 MacArthur Award for Creative and Effective Institutions, and The Moth: 50 True Stories (Hachette) was an international best seller. themoth.org

What a great book! I believe this the second in a series. It never ceases to amaze me what some people go through in life and how some turn things around. A true page turner.

This is a wonderful collection of stories and sure to bring a smile, a tear, and definitely relatable scenes. I love listening to the stories on the radio but reading them is even better.

This stories live, they breathe. They are immediate, palpable. A few are ineffably sad, others hilarious. I was inspired by The Moth Slams and these two books to attend a Slam and tell a story of my own. I'm just getting started! Buy These Wonders and The Moth, open them and commence a journey you've not yet imagined.

Compelling stories that are short, but gripping. All kinds of stories too: funny, tragic, adventurous, .... Loved the book, as much as we love the show.

If you the the Moth radio hour or podcast or in person this is a great way to take a piece with you

A read that engages in human, bite sized moments our world as lived by its many players. A thoroughly enjoyable compilation of shared experiences that remind us of the many paths to here and now. Thank you. Travel well.

A great variety of stories and story tellers. Each story is written /spoken from deep inside. They cover all different walks of life. Each of them touched my heart and I wished there were more!

Love these stories. So many interesting, so many inspiring. Quick reading. Makes a great gift. Beautiful cover, small book, very cool!
