Connie Sheerin has crafted in one way or another for as long as she can remember. Although she majored in communication, she earned money in college by doing pastel portraits of her friends. After spending ten years working in marketing, Connie tired of the fast pace and returned to the craft industry in 1995. Today, she designs and writes, and is a member of the Society of Craft Designers. Her favourite craft is mosaics, and her book CREATIVE MOSAICS was published in 1998.

The book arrived today. It offers many more ideas and inspirational projects from this author. The book itself was in great shape. I am eager to start on one of these projects.

This book has some really wonderful mosaic projects for your home. They're creative, easy and colourful. I'd initially borrowed it from the library and decided I had to buy it. A great starter book for those interested in some home mosaic projects.

Exactly as described, prompt delivery, much appreciated.
