Customer Reviews

"I also love how well this book gets kids into animal conservation also by raising their awareness of animals they don't encounter every day." - Lisa Reviews "Now I have found the next set of books I am going to be buying for my 7 year old - seriously! We read this book (book 7) together - I read it out loud, intending to stop after a few chapters but we both couldn't put it down so we read the whole thing at once. . . It's a completely believable and exciting (for a 7 year old) story about the siblings with plenty of learning as well (about the animals found in the reserve). I say "GOOD ON YOU" Bindi for carrying on your father's work with people of all ages. I look forward to many more books from you." - CPA Mom Blogspot "A quick and easy read, the story is an excellent intro to mysteries for young readers and has great facts about crocodiles woven in." - A Patchwork of Books Blog" This is such a cute book, and very easy for a younger reader to enjoy. It will take them to the wilds of Australia and they will learn about all sorts of native animals. A big plus is that at the end of the book there are pages of fact files and pictures so kids can learn even more about the animals. Full of adventure, this book will take the reader on a journey." - The Write Path "I found this a cute story that also taught about the animal world. Animal and conservation facts were woven into the story in a very natural manner. There is a section in the back that goes into more detail about the specific animals mentioned in the story." - Living to Tell the Story 17-year-old Bindi Irwin is an international award-winning wildlife conservationist and celebrity who has inherited her father's passion for wildlife and wild places. Born to Wildlife Warriors Steve and Terri Irwin, Bindi was quite literally born on television! In 2007, Bindi launched her clothing range, Bindi Wear International, in Las Vegas, and that same year she was awarded two Nickelodeon Kids Choice Awards, Fave Aussie and Biggest Greenie. Also in 2005, Bindi launched her very own TV show, Bindi the Jungle Girl. Bindi won an Emmy in 2008 and was nominated for an Emmy again in 2009. Bindi has co-created a range of books called Bindi Wildlife Adventures which have been launched in Australia, New Zealand in 2010 and the US in 2011. Released early 2010, Bindi played the lead-role in her first full-length feature film, Free Willy: Escape from Pirate's Cove and starred in her first cinema release film Return to Nim's Island in 2013! Bindi has dedicated her life to wildlife conservation and inspiring the next generation to make a difference in the world. She is a strong believer in kid empowerment and looks forward to spreading this message through her international filming work.

Croc Capers is a great book, but it is not that much about crocs anyway. This book needs improvement. BLAH!!!!

my son loved it he knows who Bindi's dad was. he liked the fact that it has Bindi and Robert and real animal facts in it.

This was a gift for my great niece who loves nature and reading. A great fit for both of us.

Received quickly and love the stories
