As a mom, it warmed my heart to see my kids giggling about a 'frogcaster' and learning about science too! This book is a blizzard of fun for children."#151; Norah O'Donnell, co-host, CBS This Morning

Known as "Janice Dean the Weather Machine," Janice Dean has been predicting the weather on Fox News Channel and Fox Business Network since 2004. She is a trained meteorologist and she loves to share her scientific knowledge, and the inspiration that led to her passion for weather, with kids and adults alike. Before Fox, she had a long career working at various radio and TV stations as a DJ, anchor, and host. Russ Cox is an award-winning illustrator and animator, and founder of Smiling Otis Studio. His illustrations have won first-place in the Published, People's Choice, and Emerging Artist categories at the New England The Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators conference. He lives in Maine with his wife, their four cats, and a banjo.

Freddy the Frogcaster has turned his hobby, meteorology, into an after-school job. While weather conditions like snowstorms can be fun (snowball fights!), Freddy warns others that they can also be dangerous. His actions help save a friend during a big weather event - and teach a lesson about planning ahead. Young readers get to learn about meteorology, follow the quick-moving action of the story, and become inspired to turn their own hobbies into potential careers. The bright colors and bold illustrations thrill even the littlest book lovers, while older kids love the exciting storyline. Five stars!

This is the second Freddy the Frogcaster book that I purchased for my Grandson who was 3 1/2 when we got it. We live in the South so we don't get much if any snow here but it still helped explain to my Grandson how different states have different weather. He loved it & he can't wait for us to get some snow! Thank You again for another great book Janice Dean & we can hardly wait to get the Hurricane book so that it can help me explain to him about Hurricanes without scaring him.

I bought 3 books Janice wrote. It's amazing how much kids learn from these books. My grand kids live in Texas. I send them pictures of snow where I live in Colorado. I tried to tell them someone spread flour on the ground. They didn't fall for it, saying; that's snow. I asked how do you know. The answer was books. Thank you Janice

Anything Janice does is AWESOME

I purchased this for my grandson for his 7th birthday. It was the fourth in the series. He now has them all. He loves things about weather.

Great read

Great children's gift

This book was also a part of my collection. I really like these books for my 1st graders. It gives good detail but also is a great conversation starter for our weather unit. We technically don't have "blizzards" but our ice storms come really close! :-)
