The Round Book: Rounds Kids Love To Sing

Synopsis

This handy paperback presents 80 songs designed to be sung as rounds. Each one appears on an uncluttered page or two, illustrated by a simple ink drawing. From sixteenth-century tunes to contemporary camp songs, the selection is rich and varied, and the appended bibliography, "More Rounds for the Avid Singer," suggests other books and recordings. Song leaders will find the clearly written suggestions for round singing particularly helpful. A fine resource for school music teachers, choir directors, camp leaders, and children who sing for the love of it. --This text refers to the Paperback edition.

Grade 4 Up-This fine collection compares favorably to Esther L. Nelson's The Great Rounds Songbook (Sterling, 1985; o.p.). The selections are written in such a way that the staves are connected and numbered to denote each part. In Great Rounds, the melodic lines are each on a single staff, which is probably more "kid friendly"; however, MacDonald's more sophisticated book seems geared to adults who would be leading the singing. Somewhat static black-and-white drawings open up each chapter. Overall, the introduction and instructions on singing rounds plus the appended history, advice for directors, additional suggestions of rounds, and a title/first-line index help to make this offering useful for most collections. Rounds are written as a choral piece with 3 or 4 parts - instead of 1 continuous staff. Easy to read if you are accompanying on the piano.

This terrific collection of rounds is organized by topic. I use it with my Sweet Adelines chorus for vocal focus, and unit vowel sound practice. I'm thrilled with this book!

This is a good resource for anyone who sings with children but there are many rounds that would appeal to adults as well. The illustrations in the book add so much that words can't do it justice.

Great book. Having one round per page made it very convenient. Highly recommended

very perfect

A big hit with my kids!

Perfect for grade school.

I will be using this for rounds in my ukulele group. I HATE having to write more than I want to. STOP IT! Or I'll stop reviewing.
