Customer Reviews

This is a great map for showing the big picture of what the Phoenix region looks like. It's plastic laminated, so it doesn't tear, and folds up into a standard map size, about 9x4 inches. The map covers really all the important areas, from Cave Creek to Buckeye to Apache Junction to Queen Creek. The reverse of the map shows, well, just about nothing -- basically the I-10 from Buckeye to the Big Horn Mountains. I wish they'd used that area for, say, zooming into downtown Phoenix. That would be much more useful, and that's why it's four stars instead of five. The only downside is that this map was published in 2009, and a lot has changed in the Phoenix metro area. For example, there are only a few bits of the 303 loop shown, and there's no connection between 64th Street and the 101 loop. ALSO: Note that my map has a green "cover," not blue -- but it's the same publication date as shown here on , and the same ISBN.
