I listen to this package while I commute. This is a good package. It is well organized and the comments prior to the books are very informative and helpful. My main issue is with the narrator. His speed is not consistent. At times I feel he is rushed and at other times he is fine. I find his rush distracting to focus on the content of the book. For this reason I bought another version from another store. The version is called "La Biblia de las Americas Nuevo Testamento en CD." It is narrated by Samuel Montoya who does an excellent job narrating. should offer this version.

I am listening to it often and finally getting past the background music. I think the music distracting. Also, I didn't initially like the voice of the narrator, because I have an audio in English that is so much better....but I have gotten used to it enough to continue using it.

Is really good!

Being a Christian Missionary to South America and being one who is constantly trying to better my spanish I find these CD's to be outstanding references to be used with or without the NIV Bible. The narrator makes you feel more than comfortable listening to spanish and the musical scores in the background lure you in to listen even deeper. You will certainly not be disappointed with your purchase and will more than likely find yourself listening to the Word of God often...God Bless

It is great for learning to understand spoken Spanish. It works better in teaching to hear and understand Spanish than any other audio on Spanish I have ever heard. Besides it great studying the Word of God.

The narrator speaks too quickly, without any feeling for the material, and doesn't have a pleasing voice. I find it very difficult to listen to.

There is this sappy music in the background. Not only is the music unnecessary, it is distracting.
